BROWN RUDNICK ADDS TAX PARTNER TO LONDON OFFICE

London, UK, and Boston, US, July 21, 2009 -- Brown Rudnick, an international law firm, today announced that Tracy Fisher has joined the firm's London office as a Partner in the Tax Group. Ms. Fisher provides complex transactional and structuring tax advice, predominantly in a funds, international, real estate, or private equity context. She has extensive experience in corporate mergers and acquisitions, dispositions, recapitalizations and reorganizations, bankruptcies, and finance. Prior to joining Brown Rudnick, Ms. Fisher was a tax lawyer with the law firms of DLA Piper, Hammonds, and Lovells.

According to Brown Rudnick CEO Joseph F. Ryan, "Today's changing world economy presents a host of challenges and opportunities for businesses operating on a global scale. As an experienced tax lawyer, Tracy will be able to advise clients in our Corporate, Insolvency and Finance areas on developing international tax strategies. We welcome Tracy to the firm."

Commenting on why she joined Brown Rudnick, Ms. Fisher said, "Brown Rudnick continues to grow in a challenging London legal market. The firm has a focused business strategy that offers me a strong platform to expand my practice, while working alongside a group of talented attorneys who are leaders in their respective fields."

This notice follows the recent announcement that a highly respected and successful litigation team joined the Firm's London office on July 6, 2009. The group is led by partner Neil Micklethwaite who is joined by a senior associate and two trainees scheduled to qualify later this year. Neil is one of the former principals of Gherson, a litigation and immigration boutique in the U.K. He has been practicing law for 25 years, and was previously head of litigation in London for both Bingham McCutchen and DLA Piper.
